FINNISH IGNITING EVENT

In Finland, the UoF Igniting Event was held at Aalto University Design Factory on March 3rd, 2019. The event, titled Joining Forces Across Sectors, focused on cross-sectoral collaboration through the lenses of education and learning. The purpose of the event was to inspire the participants and the organisers alike to think about their own role in cross-sectoral collaboration: what kinds of initiatives they might be able to participate in – or even initiate? PORTUGUESE IGNITING EVENT

April the 5th was the date for UoF's Igniting Event in Portugal. Organized by Porto Design Factory, the event was an opportunity for showcasing the project results and gathering around several partners, including public institutions, members of the academy and company. Throughout the afternoon, around 100 participants passed by and were able to follow an interesting and vivid debate on the "Collaborative Digital Shift Towards a New Framework for Industry and Education".
